PARTIES

Victims from the town of Hinkley, CA 92347, per attached Signatures Pages (Victims)

Dr. John Izbicki, United States Geological Survey (USGS)

State Water Resources Control Board, Research, Planning and Performance (Cal/EPA)

State of California Lahontan Regional Water Quality Control Board (RWQCB)

United States Environmental Protection Agency (US EPA)

II.
ALLEGATIONS

1. The Victims alleges, that the purported as “necessary”, “critical”, and “conclusive”, study and reports by Dr. John Izbicki from USGS, in identifying, distinguishing and reporting the naturally occurring verses anthropogenic (caused by PG&E) occurrence of Hexavalent Chromium in the aquifers beneath the town of Hinkley, California 92347 is a tactical ploy and a conspiracy, aimed to substantially and fraudulently diminish the strict liabilities of Pacific Gas and Electric Company (PG&E), in addition to circumventing federal and state laws, including but not limited to the Federal Law “Violation of United States Safe Drinking Water Act (U.S. SDWA).
2. The Victims alleges, that unjust enrichment has occurred by the State of California, specifically by the Lahontan Regional Water Quality Control Board, and by United States Geological Survey (USGS) and Dr. John Izbicki, evidenced by $3,500,000 (rounded) paid to the State of California Water Board by Pacific Gas and Electric Company (PG&E), and $ 1,000,000 (rounded) paid by United States of America to the State of California Water Board, all under conspiracy theory, at the expense of the Victims, suffering total economic losses to real properties and noneconomic losses, including but not limited to sustained health injuries and/or premature wrongful dead.
3. As a direct result thereof acts alleged in Paragraph 2, the acts of Paragraph 1, has occurred. Millions of dollars paid by PG&E has influenced Regulatory Agency’s acts, as exhibited herein.

THEREFORE, THE VICTIMS HEREBY DEMAND IMMEDIATE INVESTIGATION BY FBI.

SAMPLING AND LABORATORY TESTING, CONDUCTED BY DR. JOHN IZBICKI FROM USGS, OF ANY WELL IN HINKLEY, CA 92347 IS ABSOLUTELY UNWARRANTED, THUS THE TASK OF IDENTIFYING NATURALLY OCCURRING, VERSUS ANTROPOGENIC (CAUSED BY PG&E) OCCURRENCE OF HEXAVALENT CHROMIUM IS ALLEGED TO BE A TACTICAL PLOY, AND SUCH ALLEGATION IS BASED UPON THE POINTS AND AUTHORITIES EXHIBITED HEREIN BELOW.

http://www.swrcb.ca.gov/lahontan/water_issues/projects/pge/docs/encl_1appnd1.pdf

"For the purposes of a detailed geochemical background study, however, no useful geologic information on background concentrations can be obtained from mixed well waters that are available in a well which is screened over two aquifer zones. The laboratory sample results from wells containing mixed aquifer waters cannot be considered reflective of any specific aquifer and, therefore, they should not be used in a scientifically based background study of Cr(T) and Cr(VI)". (Page 5, middle)

"Depending on the water pressures associated with each aquifer, the Upper Aquifer Cr(T) and Cr(VI) concentrations in mixed aquifer wells will likely be diluted by the cleaner Lower Aquifer. If the Lower Aquifer has significantly higher pressure than the Upper Aquifer, the www.clearwatergroup.com Since 1990 229 Tewksbury Ave., Pt. Richmond, CA 94801 TEL: 510-307-9943; FAX: 510-232-2823 6 overall concentrations of Cr(T) and Cr(VI) will be more diluted". (Page 5, bottom / Page 6, top)

"These concentrations of the well water reflect the overall water quality from the individual wells and the overall Cr(T) and Cr(VI) exposure potential to humans or the environment. However, these wells have almost no value in showing background levels of Cr(T), Cr(VI), or other chemicals"

"In summary, the natural Cr(VI) and Cr(T) levels will be difficult to assess since the entire area has had intense agricultural pumping from both Upper and Lower Aquifers for up to eight decades. Artificial recharge has also been occurring in certain locations, affecting the natural background conditions of Cr(T) and Cr(VI). The background study for both Cr(T) and Cr(VI) in the current form is inadequate and inaccurate for reasons given above". (Page 9, bottom)

PURPORTED LOCKHART EARTHQUAKE FAULT, AS BEING AN IMPEDIMENT TO WATER PERCOLATING THRU IT, IS HEREBY ALLEGED AS INTENTIONAL DISTORTION AND MISLEADED FACTS. IN FACT, THE HIGH PERMEABILITY ZONES DUE TO LITHOLOGIC CHARACTERISTICS OR GEOLOGIC FAULTS (LOCKHART), TRIGGERS CONTRADICTION, THUS THE LOCKHART EARTHQUAKE FAULT IS NOT AN IMPEDIMENT, FURTHER BASED UPON THE FOLLOWING HEREIN BELOW POINTS AND AUTHORITIES.

"As noted, well data should reflect specific aquifer zones, not mixed zones. Given the eight decades of intense agricultural pumping, it is possible that with preferred flow pathways (high permeability zones due to lithologic characteristics or geologic faults (Lockhart) or other potential conduits), some of the Cr(T) and Cr(VI) from the Core Area may have migrated over the past decades toward the east or west into the East Cross Gradient Area or the West Cross Gradient Area, respectively". (Page 11, middle)

ASSERTIONS BY THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA LAHONTAN REGIONAL WATER QUALITY CONTROL BOARD THAT THE AGRICULTURAL OPERATIONS BY THE DAIRY'S FARMERS ARE EXACTLY THE SAME AS AGRICULTURAL OPERATIONS CONDUCTED BY PG&E, INCLUDING BUT NOT LIMITED TO OTHER UNSUBSTANTIATED ASSERTIONS, ALLEGED TO SHIELD PG&E FROM LIABILITY, ARE CONTRADICTED BY HEREIN BELOW POINTS

"c) Role of irrigation with Cr(VI) water in the increase of the plume Deposition of Cr(VI) throughout the basin land surface has not been mapped. Correlation between land irrigation of Cr(T) and Cr(VI) impacted groundwater at the Land Treatment Units and the presence of chromium in the underlying soil and groundwater needs more focused investigation. The mechanism of remediation of spraying Cr(VI) onto the soil and the conversion of the oxidized Cr(VI) into the reduced Cr(III) and ultimately into chromium hydroxide using soil as a treatment media are not well documented or verified. Peroxide and acids may clean the drip or irrigation lines, but may also help to mobilize and carry the Cr(T) and Cr(VI) deeper into the subsurface environment if the acids or peroxide are spilled onto the soil. d) Lack of control of groundwater extraction throughout the basin There has been none, and there is currently no hydraulic control over the groundwater basin, so the plume will continue to migrate. The Cr(VI) plume is expanding both laterally to the north, as well as vertically, as evidenced by plume maps from 2001 to current consultant studies. e) Historic patterns of Cr(VI) migration There may be historic patterns of Cr(VI) migration which have left residue available for future recapture and migration." (Page 11, middle)

"Heavy groundwater extraction since the 1930's supports this concept that the Cr(T) and Cr(VI) plume has migrated cross gradient through preferred flow pathways. Major geochemical changes in the Hinkley Valley caused by large water movements, including extraction, are likely to have occurred over the past several decades, altering background levels of Cr(T) and Cr(VI)."
